SCOPE AND CONTENT NOTE

Replacing the Board of Control in 1919 was the Board of Administration. The most significant difference between the two forms was the creation of the position of General Manager. This structure allowed greater control until the shift to a commissioner form in 1922.

The only available records for the Board of Administration is some general correspondence.

For information on other administrative bodies on institutions, see Record Groups 9, 11, 12, and 13.
